

Discover your college-bound pathway

For a rising 6th grader, college may appear to be a long way into the future...

However, the college conversation begins with:

- Knowing your gifts and talents
- Understanding your personality and interests
- Pursuing the right middle school opportunities
- Challenging yourself academically
- Setting goals, and
- Considering future high school choices

Learn how to have these important conversations and begin developing your 7-year middle through high school college-bound plan to expand your college & scholarship opportunities.
